

Railyard Arts Studio – Class Registration Made Simple

Here's what to know about signing up for your pottery class and staying enrolled:

Staying in Your Class

- Once you sign up, you're automatically re-enrolled in the same class each new session.
- If you want to switch classes or add a class, you will need to let the office staff know either in writing or in person at the front desk before the next payment date.
- Spots are limited, so holding your place matters.

Payments

- We keep your credit card on file and charge it before each new session. You do not need to worry about signing up, it will be seamlessly done for you each session.
- Upcoming payment schedule:
 - Fall 2 Pottery Classes- September 29 or 30
 - Winter 2027 Pottery Classes- December 8 or 9 (subject to change)
- If you prefer to pay with Venmo, Zelle, cash, or check, just pay with any of those methods before the charge date and we will not charge your credit card.
- If we don't receive your payment before the due date, we'll simply process the card you have on file so your spot in class is secure.
- If a payment doesn't go through, we'll let you know right away. Please take care of it within 24 hours to hold your spot, otherwise the studio may need to open the seat to another student.
